As producer of knives and cutting tools for machines for the food processing industry we confirm herewith that the merchandise fulfils the demands for the declaration of origin because these knives are produced in Spreenhagen, federal county Brandenburg in Germany. The products are produced according to the EC standard in our company BE Maschinenmesser GmbH & Co.KG

BE has established and applies a quality management system and proof has been given that the requirements acc. to DIN ISO 9001:2008 are fulfilled.

This steel is adequate for the usage in the food industry because of its high corrosion resistancy. It is produced in Germany and it is used for the production of knives for the food processing industry in Spreenhagen, Germany. Because of the high degree of chromium in this special melt (assay attached) we guarantee the high corrosion resistancy which proves that this steel shows a special aptitude for the employment in the food processing industry. It meets the demands of the hygienic regulations.
